Term 3, Week 3

Tuesday, 6th August, 2019

Applications have just closed for the Class One position in 2020. A thorough selection process will be held over the next few weeks to align what the children entering the Primary School are needing with the best teacher. It is an awesome responsibility. In Waldorf Schools, a teacher takes primary classes for up to eight years. At PWS, it is now the custom for the teacher to take the class from 6 years old to 12 years old before the children enter the Class 7 transition experience leading to High School in Class 8.

Being a primary class teacher is a journey of growth for the teacher, the children and the parents. We can all imagine the enormous changes that occur over six or seven years and it is hoped the teacher can, within themselves, find what is needed to meet the children's developmental stages.

There are inevitably ups and downs as there are in any human endeavour of value. To not expect challenges and "growth opportunities" as a part of the journey for everyone concerned is to be naïve and disingenuous. However everyone in the community has an obligation to support one another including the teacher, fellow parents and the children through whatever ups and downs come to help them grow. Being not inclusive and only fair weather friends we cannot be! While at the same time managing our boundaries and holding up a mirror to others and to ourselves so that we practice tough love when it is needed is important. Ahhh, what a balancing act it is to take part in an evolving humanity!

It is with regret that the school was informed of David Hammond's decision to step away from Class 5 at the end of the year to further develop himself and look into the world. He has been a fine holder of the class since class one in 2015 and the teacher who takes over for him in Class 6, 2020 will have big shoes to fill.

We are so grateful to have had David as our colleague and we know the children have been blessed by his creative and passionate work with them. We all hope the next four months in Class 5 go well for him and he ventures into a new future with fond memories and pride.

Welcome back Class 9B from their Leadership and Sustainability camp, farewell Class 4 on their Horse camp. Break a leg Class 11/12 Drama students in HOTEL PARADISO (this week) and let's boogie on down to Freo.Social for the HS Music Night next week (tickets to be pre-purchased).

Blessings on our school.

School Administrator

IN THE LIGHT OF A CHILD

*It's wintry still, but out of death – new birth!
This is life's law, and now I should look well
For signs that spring will come onto earth,
For she prepares, and soon her power will swell;*

*New shoots prepare to sprout on many a tree.
A new note in the birdsong...and more clues as well I see...*

*But midst this change, I must be true;
Be firm and strong in all I do.*

OPEN DAY AND FAIR

Our annual Open Day and Fair is coming up on Saturday, 31st August, 10:00am-3:00pm.

What is Open Day?

Open Day at Perth Waldorf School is a yearly event, held in the last weekend of August, organised by PWS Staff and the Parents and Friends Association (P&F). It is a wonderful opportunity for families outside the school community, who are contemplating Steiner education, to come and take part in a school tour, look at students' work in the classrooms, ask questions, see music and drama performances, and thus further their understanding before making a decision. All the classrooms are open to the public with beautiful displays of bookwork, craft, art and projects. There will be a teacher in each classroom to answer questions and provide information on the Steiner curriculum, philosophy, etc.

The P&F organise the markets and food/drinks and the profit is fed back into the school (e.g., new playgrounds, drinking fountains). Our role is to support the school by helping with activities, food stalls, setting up and packing down, parking, etc. Each Class is assigned tasks and the Class Carer organises a roster for parents/children. Open Day is a compulsory school day, as the Monday after is given as a day in lieu. Another important contributing role is for us to spread the word and invite friends and family - the more the merrier! Parents are welcome to see performances and visit classrooms, when time allows, keeping in mind that we give priority to newcomers to our school.

Open Day is a big day for families, but also a day of community building, teamwork and a great experience for our children. Our children thrive from being part of these events and experiencing the strength of community coming together to support their school. It is encouraged that children partake in helping with preparations wherever possible - leading up to or on the day. Looking forward to seeing you there and thank you for your support!

We are seeking individuals and businesses within the Community to donate prize items for the Raffle. If you want to present your products or services, please drop them to the Canteen or contact Gabby on 0439 919 926.

PRIMARY SCHOOL

FROM THE COORDINATOR

A Tawney Frogmouth sat up in the high school on Tuesday, alone and on the veranda. 2 unusual things for the bird to do. In the morning when we first saw it, it was asleep and had its beak up looking very much like the branch it mimics but it was still there at lunchtime despite the children walking below it to and from classes and band practice and music lessons happening around it. After school it had moved onto a nearby Jarrah tree and a number of children paused their conversations as they walked passed and casually said hello and goodbye as if it was the most natural thing in the world.

When is an Owl not an Owl? When it is a Tawny Frogmouth!

This unwitting 'false owl' is responsible for much confusion in the world of Owls. The fact is, this bird is not an owl at all. Owls belong to the order of Strigiformes, while Tawny Frogmouths (Podargus strigoides) are sometimes placed in the order of Coraciiformes which, in Australia, includes kingfishers and kookaburras.

The reasons for the confusion are plain to see. Here is a bird with the same mottled, cryptic pattern as an Owl, with wide eyes, and keeping the same nocturnal habits as many owl species. Further adding to the confusion is that the call of the Southern Boobook Owl (Ninox boobook) is often wrongly attributed to the Tawny Frogmouth. It is for this reason, that the Tawny Frogmouth is sometimes incorrectly referred to as a Morepork, or Mopoke.

	TAWNY FROGMOUTH	TRUE OWLS
Bill (Beak)	Wide, gaping, forward facing. Used to catch insects.	Narrow, sharp, powerful, downwards facing. Used to tear prey apart.
Toes & Talons	Slender, weak. Used only for perching.	Thick, powerful. Used to catch and kill prey.
Nesting	Usually builds nest in tree fork.	Uses tree hollow or nest of another bird.
Roosting	Out in open, relying on ability to look like a branch when threatened by predators.	Hidden in thick foliage, will be mobbed if discovered by other birds.
Food	Mainly insects, sometimes small vertebrates. Caught with bill.	Small mammals. Smaller Owls tend to eat insects. Caught with feet.

JAKURLI: PEARL SHELL

Thursday, 15th August at 9:15 am

Friday, 16th August at 9:15am

Saturday, 17th August at 6:00pm

Rainmaker Waniina by Lily Karadada

In the spirit of the Mayor of Cockburn's speech at the Reconciliation ceremony earlier this year..."It is time that this generation of young people learn the truth of Colonisation", the Wardong students in Class 7 are preparing a play called 'JAKURLI', (Yawuru for pearl shell).

Pearl shell has always been an important part of the North West tribes: the Bardi, Yawuru, Nyulnyul, Jugan and many others. For hundreds of years the Yolgnu people of Arnhem Land traded with the Macassans of Sulawesi and other Islander folk. Shell was also used in the rites of initiation for young boys. When carved with the designs of the tribe, it was known as the Riji. The women made jewellery and the children used the pearls to play their 'marble' games.

When the Settlers realised that using their native unpaid workers to gather shell rather than the task of keeping sheep and cattle, many Settlers became rich quickly. However, the realisation of impending wealth also brought thousands flooding into the North West.

When shell could not be gathered by the shore as it became very depleted, the Aboriginal workers were forced further and further out to sea. Eventually, this resulted in the practice of 'Skin Diving'.

The demand for shell and pearls was high on the English and American markets. In the Northern Hemisphere, the shell was used to create knife handles, parts for instruments and pearl buttons.

As 'divers' became scarce the lucrative business of Blackbirding came into being. This was the kidnapping of young males and females from inland tribes bordering Broome or Nuleribanjen as it was known by the Yawuru.

Bardi Riji

The students are learning language and songs not heard for a century and hope to bring this gift to an audience.

LIBRARY NEWS

Thank you to our school community for your ongoing support of the Tashi Bookstall. Keep your eye on the table as we are always adding new books for purchase.

There is a box full of an eclectic collection of older damaged library books. If you enjoy restoring books and bringing them to life, this could be a volunteer job for you! And your participation hours could be fulfilled. Please contact either Penny Champ or Kelly Geyer in the Library and we can pass a basket of books with materials to repair over to you for your care and attention.

Library Books of the week:

Children and their temperaments* by Marieke Anschutz (pictured to the right). Drawing on ancient tradition, Rudolf Steiner referred to four fundamental 'types' or 'temperaments' in the human personality, each of which, he said, has different personal needs and ways of relating socially.

The following two books are written by Kermann Koepke, a Swiss Waldorf teacher of many years experience who is well known in Europe:

Encountering the self, transformation and destiny in the ninth year* by Hermann Koepke. Between the ages of nine and ten, as their I incarnates more deeply, children often experience themselves for the first time as separate individuals, different from their parents and peers, and essentially alone. This inner experience is sometimes precipitated by a first encounter with death in the child's environment, a first inkling that life is fragile and does not go on forever. Hermann Koepke provides a lucid and highly readable explanation of the outer signs and symptoms of this essential turning point in the life of a child.

On the threshold of adolescence, the struggle for independence in the twelfth year* by Hermann Koepke. This book tells the story of how Suzanne, a young teacher at a Waldorf school, copes with the changes her class is going through at the transition from childhood to adolescence.

Thanking you,

Penny Champ and Kelly Geyer - Library.

The Four Temperaments

– an exploration into ‘four-foldness’

Four temperaments, four elements, four kingdoms of nature, four bodily sheaths – searching for insights into ourselves, our children, students, and others...

The Four Temperaments have been recognised as a typology for understanding human beings since ancient times: the fiery choleric, the airy sanguine, the watery phlegmatic and the earthy melancholic. Rudolf Steiner added a connection with the four bodily sheaths: physical, etheric, astral and ego.

Learning to identify our own primary temperament(s) can be significant in understanding our deep-seated tendencies in communication, relationships and will activity. Learning to recognise it in others can greatly improve our understanding of them.

Over 4 weekly sessions, participants will be led through artistic and experiential exercises aimed at deepening your engagement with ‘four-foldness’ as a concept, with a particular focus on the Four Temperaments, and exploring the many ways it can be applied in everyday life.

The course, offered through Rudolf Steiner College Perth, is aimed at teachers, parents and anyone interested in practical Anthroposophy.

4 Thursday nights 7.00 – 9.00 from 22nd August – 12th September 2019 at Perth Waldorf School

Presenters

Jill Whitfield has been a seeker of wisdom ever since she can remember, always with the aim of embedding understanding in practical everyday life. Formerly a social worker, she encountered the ideas of Rudolf Steiner when she became a mother and subsequently trained and worked as a Steiner Class Teacher. Since completing a teaching cycle, she has relished having the time and energy to digest the experiences and questions raised by this intensive work. Developing this current course has arisen from the process.

Sharon D Clifford is an artist and a dedicated student of colour. Whether working with wet on wet watercolour technique or layering acrylics or pastels, Sharon is inspired by the endless interactions between colours and their connection with the Astral realm and our soul life. Sharon has created since she was a child, always playing, enquiring and transforming materials of some kind or another. She trained in textiles and delighted in the many techniques that brought colours into conversation. She taught handcraft and painting for many years and now works with adults and individual commissions.

WINTER WARMERS

The last season and the coldest, Winter inhales the earth inward. We draw to us introspection, contemplation and patience as the nights become long and days are darker. As the cold mornings break we feel the height of receptive yin energy. Winter is synonymous with the last stage of life and wears black, blue and white.

Plants move underground into the womb of mother earth and we require more warm dense foods, hard cheese, big fish, chicken, meat on the bone, citrus fruits and onions. The autumn harvest of nuts, berries and dried fruits is consumed during Winter.

We say blessing:

*For what we are about to receive
May the Lord make us truly thankful
From my head to my feet
I am made in the image of God
From my heart right into my hands
I feel the breath of God
When I speak with my mouth
I follow the will of God
When I behold God in father and mother
In all dear people
In animal and plant, in tree and stone
Nothing can fill me with fear
But only with love
For all that is about me.
Amen*
